BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

SAFETY WHILE ASLEEP:—I will both lay me down in peace, and sleep; for thou, Lord, only makest me dwell in safety.—Psalms 4:8.
HOW TO CONQUER AN ENEMY:—When a man's ways please the Lord he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.—Prov. 16:7.

MEN WHO CAN SPELL

Not only did the president sign the Philadelphia sesqui-centennial resolution, but there is every reason for believing that he knew what it meant and in an emergency could have spelled it.—Kansas City Journal.

There is little evidence that Warren could spell that or any other tongue-twisting word. He is an editor by profession and in a newspaper office it is the linotype man who is supposed to be the spelling shark, and not the editor. Then, too, when some one calls attention to a bust that appears in the paper, it is very handy to have a man who the editor can explain is responsible for it.

If the larger cities of Oklahoma have the brainiest men and if congressmen come from among this element, the record of the state since its entry into the union does not indicate that the voters think so. The two senators are from Oklahoma City and Muskogee, but, with the exception of Miss Alice Robertson, no member of the lower house is from a big city. This has been the rule since statehood with only two or three exceptions. Occasionally men from the city try to break in but seldom gets very far. Even when one has got by he has lasted by one term. We don't pretend to explain the situation but here it is.

THE FAIRS

"Show windows of America"—so our country and state fairs are rightly called. At the fairs we get a glimpse of the entire resources of our county and our state displayed before our eyes in the most strikingly attractive manner—in a manner which gives us a far better understanding of our county and state than we can get in any other way with an expenditure of anything like the same time and money.

The fairs mark the progress of agriculture, of manufacturers, of the arts and sciences, of invention, of amusement from year to year. In short they mark the progress of men. They bring home to us by apt illustration the development achieved in every line of human endeavor. The fairs are educational. Through our fairs we learn much about things outside our own, all too, narrow, beaten path. We learn also much concerning those things with which we have been accustomed to think we are already familiar. The fairs are broadening to the mind. Through them we get a broader, clearer view of the progress of the world, and hence are better able to appreciate and to fulfill our own part in the general scheme of things.—Oklahoma Cotton Grower.

Congress still drags along with no prospect of an adjournment any time soon. This is one of the longest sessions in history and less accomplished than almost any other that ever sat. The fiftieth congress, which sat during the second half of Cleveland's first administration, broke all records for length of a regular session.

None of the famous musicians now in the state can produce music any sweeter to the ears of Ada citizens than the whistles at various gins and other concerns now in operation. They mean the wheels of industry are moving again.

Statues on the British house of parliament are reported to be crumbling from long exposure to the weather and pieces are dropping to the ground frequently, much to the consternation of pedestrians. Is this an omen that British power is crumbling and may in the near future be only a matter of history? If one believes in signs he might draw such a conclusion.

Some imposing monuments erected to the memory of benefactors of the human race also call to mind that in many instances friends of the human race have received stones after their death instead of the bread they asked while living.

If mankind devoted a fraction of the time to devising ways of killing insect and germ enemies of the race that it does in working out new plans of slaughtering human beings in war the world would take on a prosperity that would resemble the millenium.

The Republicans carried Maine by a reduced majority in Monday's election. They will now rejoice because it was no worse.

A Georgia man observes that he has two kinds of kin folks, one that he is ashamed of and the other that is ashamed of him.

Is Law to be Supreme
(Kansas City Journal)

The issues involved in the injunction secured by Attorney General Daugherty to issue the uninterrupted transactions of the nation's business with the railroads is so vital that it touches every one of the more than 100,000,000 people of this country.

That issue is, in the words of the attorney general himself, "the survival and supremacy of the government of the United States." The words are more than forceful. They are in a sense fateful. The supremacy of the government has been so flagrantly and violently challenged that the continued functioning of the orderly processes of government is jeopardized.

In his remarks to the federal court in Chicago, where the application for a temporary injunction was filed, the attorney general declared, with something of the forcefulness of a historic epigram, that "no union or combination of unions can, under our laws, dictate to the American union. The government of the United States is supreme and must endure. When any man in this country is not permitted to engage in lawful toil, whether he belongs to a union or not, the death knell to liberty will be sounded and anarchy will supersede organized government."

The attorney general disclaims any intention to "kill the unions", but his determination to maintain the supremacy of the law will be backed by every law abiding citizen in the land. The step which has been taken has been long delayed. But it will bring to a head the situation which has been growing more and more intolerable week after week. The same dispatches which recorded the granting of the temporary injunction flooded the news columns of the daily press with reports of nation-wide sabotage which strikes at the very foundations of government.

The injunction, which will be in force until September 11, enjoins any and every form of interference with the railroads in transporting passengers or commodities. Picketing is forbidden. Individuals are prohibited from interfering, or inducing others to interfere, with any of the details of operation of the roads. Strikers are not allowed to loiter about railroad property. Every act is banned which will tend to hamper the operation of the road and every man is protected in his right to work or not to work as he sees fit.

The results of the injunction will be awaited with nation-wide interest. The proceeding may or may not be followed by a renewal of sabotage, intimidation, attempted train-wrecking, an assassination. But every act of this nature is now amenable to the power behind the federal courts.

That fact ought to hearten all those who believe that law and order has not yet been proved powerless when pitted against the rampant radicalism that has precipitated the present crisis; that the American union is the "one big union" in this country and that organized labor nor organized capital must dominate organized government.

The Hero of New Orleans
(Tulsa World)

Just now the name of Andrew Jackson jumps out of almost every printed page. Commentators are discussing him, the literati have turned its attention to the life of Old Hickory, while his name and his deeds are oft referred to by campaign speakers. And, strangest of all, the two Carolinas are vying with each other for the honor of his birth.

In truth there seems to be a Jacksonian renaissance. Why should this be? Is it because of that trait in human nature which causes us to reflect with longing upon some glorious personage of the past whose achievements and predilections seem to fashion him divinely for the present? We may not say. So yet it is fact that men informed of the nation's heroic past find themselves frequently wishing that the country might have now so sturdy and decisive a character to thunder in times of stress "By the Eternal!"

Time has mellowed the original intimate picture of this heroic figure. There is a growing pride and affection for the sturdy, though choleric, determined, yet tyrannical, brave if truculent, figure of the hero of New Orleans. The patron saint of democracy was honest, was true, was steadfast to principle, was a patriot of the highest order, faithful to friends, warm hearted yet possessing the heart of a lion, and superbly chivalric. And, outshining all of these in the role he played in his country's public life, he was a truly great nationalist.

But to think of the Carolinas disputing as to which shall have the honor of his birth. For neither did he have any love. Indeed it is not certain whether he was born in South Carolina or North Carolina. It is certain that he left the Carolinas very early in life and figured largely in the history of the times as a son of Tennessee. He was anything a patron saint of North Carolina, while John C. Calhoun, the colossus of South Carolina, he cherished only such a personal hatred as only Andrew Jackson could form and express; and the most dramatic feature of his presidential career was his vindication of the national idea against the nullification doctrine of South Carolina.

His heroic statue should adorn the Hall of Statuary in the national capitol. But until the dispute between the Carolinas is settled, or unless Tennessee takes bold possession of that which is disputed between these two states, posterity must needs look elsewhere for those blocks of marble and bronze which preserve the likeness of one of the republic's very greatest men.

Three of Willard Mack's four wives. Left, Pauline Frederick, divorced; upper right, Marjorie Rambeau, divorced, and Beatrice Stone, his last wife, now said to be seeking a divorce.

Willard Mack is "a wonderful fellow at times," but he is lacking in judgment that he thinks the sextette from "Lucia" is a vaudeville act, according to

Pauline Frederick, his third and divorced wife. "I'm simply dumbfounded," she said when informed that his fourth wife, Beatrice Stone, was about to bring action for divorce. Mack's other wives were Maude Leone and Marjorie Rambeau. Mack declares there is no hope for a reconciliation.

Black Crepe Enlivened With Bright Ribbons

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

THAT black will again be a very prominent note in fashions is the assurance we are given by showings of advanced fall models. But the somber, all-black costume is not destined for any longer run of popularity, for the vogue now is to provide decided contrast in the trimming and thus enliven the general effect.

Bright colored ribbons and silk are the medium through which the somberness of this black Canton crepe model is relieved. The ribbons, which are in Oriental colorings, trim the lower edge of the sleeves and, applied in triple rows over a band of Killarney green silk, give an effect of alternate rows of the green and Oriental colorings at the center front of the blouse. Knife-plaited side panels in double tier effect add a youthful note to the otherwise plain skirt and make the model an especially desirable one for a miss.

HE IS LOOKING 'EM OVER AGAIN

"Eight years of stomach and liver trouble reduced me to a walking skeleton. My skin was dried up and as yellow as a twenty-dollar gold piece. I was filled with gas and had severe pains in my right side. I could not think and had lost all ambition to do anything. Doctors' medicine did not touch me. My cousin advised Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which snatched me from the grave. I have gained sixty pounds, eat like a hired man and am looking 'em over again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

COUNTY FAIR IS FREE TO ALL IN SPITE OF RUMOR

The rumor is being circulated that an admission fee is being charged at the county fair. Such is not the case. The fair is absolutely free as advertised. There is no charge for admission to the grounds and exhibits and none for entries. There will be a charge for admission to the races, ball games and carnival attractions, but these things are not a part of the fair proper, and have nothing to do with the exhibits which are free at all times to all comers.

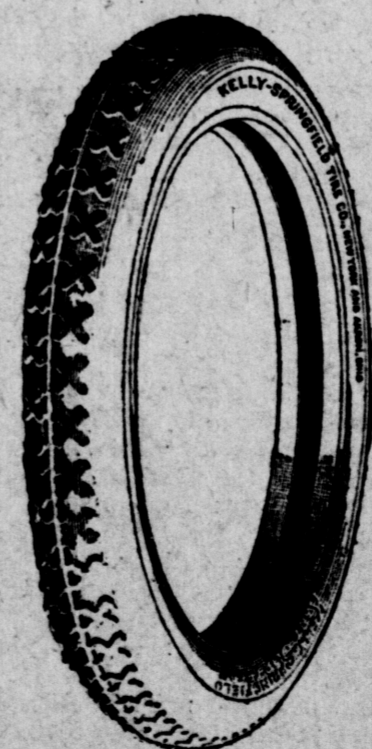

The rumor probably started as a result of some dodgers advertising the races and specifying that the admission would be 25 cents. As stated above this does not apply to the fair itself.

MOTHER GAVE IT

Virginia Lady Suffered With Aches and Pains Until Mother Began Giving Her Cardui.

Dublin, Va.—Miss Mary Alice Hughtett residing on Route 2, near here, recently told a visitor of her interesting experience with Cardui. Miss Hughtett said: "I had been suffering for some time with painful... I was pale, didn't feel like going. Would just drag around, and couldn't rest to do any good. I would suffer a month with my back, sides and head. My limbs would ache and I didn't know what to do, but I knew I must do something, for I didn't get well by letting it run on."

"My mother is a believer in Cardui, for she saw what it did for others as well as herself, so she began giving it to me."

"It wasn't long before I saw a change. It was just what I needed. It regulated me. I began to eat and sleep, and the pain stopped."

"Cardui is without doubt the best female tonic made, and I am glad I can recommend it to others."

If suffering with symptoms such as Miss Hughtett mentions, or other ailments peculiar to women, why not begin Cardui at once? Its merit is well established by successful use for more than 40 years.

Eight Hour Law in Sweden Only an Experiment
(By the Associated Press)

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 12.—The eight hour law has been in force in Sweden for two and a half years and it is still a bone of contention between employers and laborers.

The industrial employer's organizations have fought the law from the first, and are still opposed to it. They declare the increased productivity, promised by the backers of the bill as a compensation for shorter hours, has not developed.

That the scheme has meant the loss of time and money, and that a large number of workmen have expressed a desire for longer hours.

The Wood Pulp Manufacturers Association avers that in many cases production has been maintained only by increasing the number of employees or by buying costly labor-saving machinery.

Labor unions press these reports. They say it is not fair to compare present results with those obtained during the war when the productive capacity of workmen was strained to the utmost. This feverish working speed could not be maintained with safety to the laborer, they say.

Consequently the labor unions want the eight hour law continued. They maintain that under it

Gouraud's Oriental Cream

Working efficiency has been increased; that the number of workmen is not materially greater and that the laboring classes as a whole have found more time for cultural and educational improvement. They say that the home as a social unit has been strengthened, the working man now giving more time to the bringing up of his children and to the enjoyment of home life.

In the background is the public, and the public does not seem, in any sense, to be alarmed over the outcome. It believes that the average Swedish workman, with his sound common sense, will eventually agree with the employer in a solution that will advance the industries of the nation.

TARIFF BILL IS MOST AMENDED ONE IN HISTORY
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The tariff bill, which has been nearly two years in the making, is the most amended measure in the history of the American congress. The senate finance committee made 2087 changes in the original house bill, the senate increased this number to 2,436 and the conferees in perfecting the measure added several hundred more, running the total to around 3,000.

"I knew him when he was a boy"

What one is there of us that has not felt the glow of satisfaction over the outstanding success of a life-long friend? Often a surprise—seemingly "all of a sudden." Yet neither surprising nor sudden, when you stop to think back over each step of his progress.

THE United States Rubber Company—makers of U. S. Royal Cords—were first to conceive, make and announce the balanced tire. A tire in which there is such complete unity of action in tread and carcass that neither will give way before the other.

First to conceive, make and announce a complete line of tires—a tire for every need of price and use under one standard of quality.

First to tell the public about the good and bad in tire-retailing. (You remember the phrase "Go to a legitimate dealer and get a legitimate tire.")

First also to arouse industrial and trade minds to the need of a new kind of tire competition. (Competition for better and better values. Greater and greater public confidence.)

THESE high spots along the U. S. road to leadership indicate the intent—the will to win by the quality route in a price market.

Now that so many car-owners have given their verdict for quality tires in general, and U. S. Tires in particular—a number of dealers and car-owners whose vision has been clouded by "discounts," "sales" and what not, are beginning to remember that they "knew him when he was a boy."

NON-STOP FLIGHT AROUND THE WORLD IN PLANE SEEN AS NEW MOTOR'S TESTED

Mechanics inspecting motor after its 250-hour test.

The possibility of a non-stop flight around the world in 200 hours instead of the eighty days Jules Verne dreamed of, is seen as the result of a recent test of a new Wright airplane motor. This engine, mounted on a block, ran continuously for 250 hours. At the rate of two miles a minute an airplane driven by this motor could circle the earth in approximately 200 hours. The problem of carrying sufficient gasoline is now being tackled by experts interested in the engine.

CANADA'S WHEAT CROP TO EXCEED FEDERAL FIGURE

(By the Associated Press)

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 13.—Prospects of a larger wheat crop in Canada than was anticipated have led to the belief that the government's preliminary estimates are 40,000,000 bushels under what the harvest will yield.

The government's estimate, announced early in August, was 321,000,000 bushels for all Canada. Western grain experts now estimate the yield in the prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta at 317,000,000 bushels, or 20,000,000 bushels more than the government figures. As it is now known that the estimate of 24,000,000 bushels for eastern Canada will be nearly correct, the entire crop, according to the new calculation, should be 341,000,000 bushels or 40,000,000 above the government's estimate.

The higher harvest is due in great part, it is said, to improved conditions in Saskatchewan in the last few weeks preceding harvest. Canadian Minister of Agriculture Motherwell, who is from the province and who recently visited it, has expressed the opinion that the Saskatchewan yield will be at least 200,000,000 bushels. The provincial government experts declare the yield per acre in the province will be from eighteen to twenty bushels. Manitoba's harvest is now placed definitely at approximately 70,000,000 bushels.

The big harvest will result in more business for the western railroads than for many years, government agents believe. All the roads have made preparations to handle the crop and new wheat has begun to move toward the head of the lakes. The Canadian roads likewise are getting a considerable overflow of business from the United States, the strike across the border having made it necessary to route a number of trains recently through Western Canada.

Sweden has an area of 170,176 square miles.

ARMY GAS MASK CAN'T KEEP OUT FUMES IN MINE

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON.—The army gas mask, in its regular form, does not afford protection against all noxious gases. The gas mask laboratory of the United States Bureau of Mines at Pittsburgh recently investigated the army type of mask to determine its fitness for use in work about smelters blast furnaces or similar industrial operators, or possibly in mines. It also has tried to modify the mask for such use.

The investigation developed that this type, while affording protection against all gases met in warfare, does not protect against carbon all gases met in industrial life. It does not protect against carbon monoxide, the gas hazard in coal mine, nor against illuminating gas, natural gas, ammonia, and the products of combustion found in burning buildings.

The bureau seeks to develop special type of masks suitable for different industries that will serve to protect the wearer. The bureau has also done work on a "universal" mask that would serve to protect the wearer against all the gases in air commonly met. A light weight form of this mask has been developed for use of city firemen.

ADA HIGH SCHOOL LAUNCHES PLAN TO HELP WORKING STUDENTS EARN LIVING WHILE FINISHING COURSE

Division of Classes to Give Choice of Hours in all Subjects.

With the second week of school at Ada high well under way, practically all changes, reclassifications, adjustments and preliminaries have been completed. Sophomore, junior and senior classes have organized. Freshmen will organize today.

Prof. W. A. Hill, principal, said his staff of teachers had taken up the work with a precision that had quickly eliminated many discouraging situations and that school was beginning to run smoothly. It will be next week, however, before the final rush of opening business is entirely eliminated.

Students this year are studying under a new system. Due to the large enrollment, which is more than a score higher than ever before, two classes in most subjects have been organized to accommodate students. For the first two years work, the same course is given to all. Juniors and seniors are given the preference of taking up a finished course in commercial, literary, manual art or science.

Several students are attending school on a part time basis. These are boys who are forced to work part of the day. Such students are listed as specials, the first time in history that such a plan has been adopted.

"We want to give every fellow a chance to get some education," Mr. Hill explained. The system used makes it possible for students to get the same class at any hour of the day.

Assembly Opens Day.
The days program includes an hour's assembly daily for the opening period. Students are given an opportunity at this time to appear before the student body. Piano recitals, orations, debates, vocal numbers and other student activities will be featured. Announcements for the day are also made at this time and visitors are admitted.

From 9 until 11 o'clock, regular class work is taken up. From this hour until noon band, orchestra, chorus, drill and other like activities are taken up, with practically every student enrolled in one division. At 1:15 p. m. class work is resumed and continues until 3:25. Following the dismissal from the last class, many students take up special work.

Sale of student activity tickets has already been started. Mr. Hill pointed out that the ticket sold this year would be for any specific activity the student desired, or all of them. By this plan, a student who wanted football only would be able to get a ticket for this activity, without paying for basketball and baseball.

Farmers' Column By Byron Norrell

I have heard of weather being so hot that it popped corn on the cob a day or two ago. G. Z. Floyd handed me such an ear of pop corn. If any one cares to see it I have it.

That the cream shipping business is here to stay is evidenced by the continued shipments from Ada and other places in the county. Last week Curtis Floyd bought 160 gallons of cream for which he paid out $112. He bought from 30 different individuals. Of course others shipped directly to the creameries, so it will be seen that this line of diversification is becoming permanent. Curtis says that others have told him that they are going to take it up and he also finds that more attention will be given to pure bred farm animals and to poultry. Curtis has had considerable experience as a breeder of good stock and is a strong advocate of the best.

The county fair is now on in full blast and the exhibits are well worth any one's time to visit and examine carefully. The exhibitors have in many instances gone to much trouble to provide something worth while. The public should show its appreciation by attending the fair. Every one can learn something here if he wants to.

Green Tomato Catsup.

One bushel of green tomatoes, sliced; 12 large onions, sliced small; 5 cloves of garlic, 1-2 gallon of vinegar, 2 ounces of ground cloves, 1 1/4 ounce of cayenne pepper, 3 table-spoons black pepper.

Boil tomatoes and onions until tender and press through a sieve until nothing is left but a pint or so of refuse skins. Tie the unground spices in a thin bag; separate the "buttons" of the garlic and mince; add a teaspoon of salt, the vinegar, the bags of spices and the pepper. Boil down thick, or until it is reduced to one-half original quantity.

Bottle while hot; pour into the neck of each bottle, after the catsup is in, a tablespoon of olive oil. Cork and seal.

Spanish Pickle.

1 peck green tomatoes, sliced thin, 4 onions, sliced thin, 1 cup salt, 1-2 ounce cloves, 1-2 ounce allspice berries, 1-2 ounce pepper corns, 1-2 cup mustard seed, 1 pound sugar, 4 green peppers, chopped fine, cider vinegar.

Sprinkle alternate layers of tomatoes and onions with salt, and let them stand overnight. In the morning drain them, and put them in a preserving kettle. Add the remaining ingredients, using enough vinegar to cover the mixture. Heat it gradually to the boiling point, and boil it for one-half hour. Put it in to scalded jars and seal them.

Green Tomato Mince Meat.

Wash one-half peck of green tomatoes, chop fine, sprinkle with two table-spoons of salt and let stand two hours. Then drain and rinse. Cover with cold water and boil for two hours. Add two pounds of chopped seedless raisins, 2 pounds of brown sugar, one-half pound of suet chopped fine, one pint of cider vinegar one teaspoon each of cinnamon, cloves, mace, and nutmeg. This is excellent for pie filling and will keep in a well-covered jar all winter.

LEGION ESSAY CONTEST WILL BE HELD LONGER

The American Legion national essay contest has been extended to October 6, so that all school children between the ages of 12 and 18 inclusive can enter the contest, both boys and girls being eligible. State Superintendent R. H. Wilson is in charge for Oklahoma and full details have been forwarded to each county and state superintendent of schools, from whom information should be obtained. The subject of the essay is "How the American Legion can best serve the Nation," and National prizes are: first, $750; second, $500; third, $250, to be used for scholarships in colleges indicated by the winners.

Their Service Free.

Past Department commanders of the American Legion have spent a large amount of time and money without remuneration, serving the interests of the ex-service men's organization. The four past commanders are Ross N. Lillard, Oklahoma City; Horace H. Hagan, Tulsa; H. B. Fell, Ardmore, and H. B. Davis of Duncan. This speaks well for any organization, and especially indicates continued growth by the American Legion, standing for the principles which it does.

Limit Special Rates.

American Legion auxiliary of the first district of Oklahoma last week recommended that only members of the American Legion and Auxiliary be allowed to use reduced fare certificates in visiting the National Convention at New Orleans, October 16-20. Mothers, wives, daughters and sisters of legionnaires are eligible to join the Auxiliary.

Street Dance Helps.

Donaldson-Walker Post No. 128, Cushing, gave a street dance and carnival last week to get funds to carry the post band and baseball team to the Bartlesville state convention September 11-12.

The post has also entered its baseball team in the Daily Oklahoman contest for the state amateur championship.

He Gets Cheap Ticket.

Edwin K. White post No. 10, Okmulgee, sold chances on a ticket to the national convention at New Orleans, Ralph L. McVey winning the ticket. The Post has a membership of over 400 and is planning to charter a ship to Cuba following the national convention at New Orleans October 16-20.

Society to Meet.

The official call for the Thirteenth Promenade Nationale of La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevenux has been issued by E. J. Elvers, Chef de Chemin de Fer, to meet at New Orleans October 16-20 during the national legion meeting.

PUBLIC ASKED TO SEEK SHARE OF WAR TROPHIES

Individuals of the state, citizens and Legionnaires have been requested by the American Legion of Oklahoma to write their congressmen urging passage of Senate Bill No. 674 providing for distribution to the states of near 1,000,000 war trophies, including rifles, cannon, etc., now stored at Newark Bay, N. J.

The bill passed the senate nearly two years ago but has been held up in the house. The state should in turn distribute the trophies to counties and towns where they could be put on display in a public place.

Weekly to Anyone.
Subscriptions for the American Legion Weekly can now be obtained by others than Legionnaires at the rate of $2.00 per year. Individuals should mail checks to the American Legion Weekly, 627 West 43rd street, New York City.

The American Legion Weekly is the official publication of the American Legion which represents all ex-service men.

SAILORS WILL ATTEND NEW ORLEANS MEETING

More than 2200 sailors and 90 officers of the United States navy will go to New Orleans during the American Legion national convention, October 16-20, as the result of a recent order made by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt. Hydroplanes ordered to fly to the convention from Pensacola, Fla., will include some of the largest models in existence. Their wing span measures 100 feet. All planes will be twin screw equipped with Liberty motors.

CRUDE NEEDLE SAVES INJURED SAILOR'S LIFE

While the S. S. New England was 150 miles at sea the bursting of a steam line wounded Boyd O'Neil, former navy man, in seventeen places. His shipmates sewed O'Neil's abrasions with sail twine and three cornered sail needles, the rough sea surgery saving his life.

Bergdoll Hates America.

In his series of articles "The Truth About Bergdoll," Charles R. Fehrlin of Philadelphia, describes the present appearance of America's arch slacker as that of a "fat middle-class German with a hatred of everything American." Fehrlin was one of the party of army intelligence operatives who recently tried to kidnap Bergdoll in Germany. It was the purpose of the United States government to return Bergdoll to this country to serve the sentence imposed for the violation of the selective draft act.
